August 12, 1852 - August 14, 1890

Through the Knights of Columbus, Father McGivney gave Catholic laymen a new opportunity - the chance to grow in holiness while contributing to their parishes, communities, and security of their families.

Father McGivney founded the Knights of Columbus as a fraternal benefit society offering low-cost life insurance to immigrant families facing destitution if a breadwinner died. Today its insurance program has received the highest possible ratings from both the A.M. Best Co. and Standard & Poor's.
