The Knights of Columbus is a Catholic men's organization dedicated to community service and providing relief to the disadvantaged. More than 125 years ago the Knights were formed as a social safety net for widows and orphans of Connecticut's large Irish population. From its beginning as a group of concerned men from a small local parish, the Knights have grown into an international presence with over a million members. Our mission remains essentially the same as it was at conception; we are dedicated to supporting and encouraging youth to become morally strong and socially aware contributing members of society and to provide help and relief to those in need. Some of the many activities supported by Council 11925 are highlighted at our website, <https://kofcknights.org/CouncilSite/?CNO=11925>.
