CHAPLAIN'S MESSAGE

Reverend Martino Choi, Parochial Vicar
St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church
E-mail: mchoi@adwparish.org Phone: 301-924-2284

Brother Knights and Ladies,

On September 21, the Church celebrates the Feast of St. Matthew the Apostle. This feast holds special significance for the Archdiocese of Washington since our Cathedral is named for St. Matthew. In the Gospel that he wrote, St. Matthew describes how Jesus called him from his customs collection post (9:9-13). This background makes St. Matthew the patron saint of civil servants, which makes the connection to our nation's capital particularly appropriate.

St. Matthew's story of conversion – how Jesus calls him to shift his focus from worldly success and power to following Christ and help bring about His Kingdom – is applicable to all of us. But perhaps we can ask St. Matthew's intercession in a particular way for all those in public office, that they may seek together the common good in accordance with God's will and thereby build a world of true justice and peace without regard to personal agenda or political gain.

St. Matthew, pray for us!

Fr. Martino Choi

Motto: "Lord, direct our actions to fulfill Your will."

DISTRICT DEPUTY'S REPORT

SK Joseph F. Kremasky, District Deputy (30)
E-mail: JFKremasky@gmail.com ~ Phone: 301-570-4891

Our annual Tootsie Roll program kicked off in August with a very successful campaign at the Bauer Dr. Safeway. Congratulations to Harry Bushar and his team for exceeding last year's collections. The program continues in September at the Olney Liquor store on Georgia Avenue. To volunteer, please contact Steve Sutkowski at 301-890-9308.

A reminder that the annual Knights of Columbus car raffle is underway. A flashy 2018 Ford Mustang (or $18,000.00), a second prize of an iPad Air, and a third prize of a $200.00 gift card will be awarded at our October Columbus Day Ball.

For other events scheduled for this month, please see details in this month's newsletter.

GRAND KNIGHT'S MESSAGE

SK Frederick L. Whitman, Grand Knight
E-mail: Shagger43@yahoo.com ~ Phone: 240-550-1007

Well, summer's drawing to an end. Fall, with typically beautiful weather and vibrant colors, is almost here. If summer was too hot for you, get out and enjoy the Fall.

George Weigel, the preeminent biographer of Saint John Paul II. will be speaking at the Basilica of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary in Baltimore at 7:00PM on September 21. Come hear all about this giant of a saint from a local Baltimore boy who knew him personally. Admission is FREE.

Baltimore's 127th Annual Columbus Day Parade is October 8 at 2:00PM. The parade is significant this year first because it is on Columbus Day weekend. Second, the Baltimore City Council tried to eliminate celebrations of Columbus Day and the Knights of Columbus led the opposition to the proposal. Our State Council wants a GREAT turnout to show continuing support of Columbus Day. The parade starts at the Inner Harbor and ends at Little Italy. For more information contact Santo Grasso sgrasso@earthlink.net or David Bellistri at davidbellistri@gmail.com.

Did you visit our Council Art Show in August? If not, you missed a great show. Beautiful art was on display and for sale. I hope you were able to purchase a piece of art for your home or office. Many thanks to SK Fred Taylor, PGK, and his lovely wife Elaine, for organizing this wonderful event. I personally look forward to future council art shows.

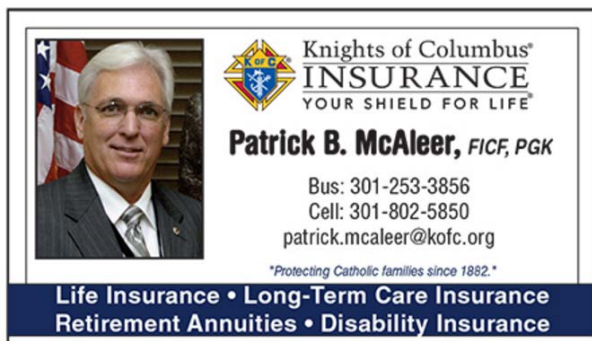

Our Tootsie Roll campaign is underway. Please volunteer to help at a location near you. You can contact me if you need more information.

The Council budget for Fraternal Year 2017-2018 was posted in our August Newsletter. We will vote on the budget at our September 13 business meeting.

Visit our web site at www.kofc6793.org or our Facebook page at www.facebook.com/KnightsOfColumbus6793/ to stay informed of our future activities. Attend our business meetings and read our Newsletter to find activities that interest you and join in. Become a more active Brother Knight and support our Council activities.

God bless you and your families.

UPDATE YOUR BENEFICIARIES

Sometimes it is easy to overlook the simplest of things.

Take, for example, the beneficiaries on your life insurance policies. If your policy was applied for and issued several years ago, it may very well be that the person you originally selected as the beneficiary is no longer the person you would want to receive the policy proceeds. If you bought the policy when you were single, for example, you may have named your parents as beneficiaries. If you have since married, your policies should be updated to reflect your spouse as beneficiary. Maybe you've had children since, who are not named on the policies.

Most people list a primary beneficiary, who is specifically designated as the first in priority to receive policy proceeds. WE also encourage the naming of a contingent beneficiary, an alternate person designated to receive policy proceeds, usually in the event that the original beneficiary predeceases the insured.

I routinely call all my policyholders for annual review appointments, usually near the anniversary date of your policy - that is, the date it was originally issued. One of the matters that I'll discuss during this review is the status of your beneficiary designations. If they need updating, and they often do, I can complete the paperwork during that appointment.

I look forward to meeting with each of you to discuss your family's needs.

UPDATE FROM THE FINANCIAL SECRETARY

CONGRATULATIONS to all for your fantastic generosity supporting the council Family-In-Need Fund this past Spring. The council donated $2,000 to the family a few weeks ago helping them address their short-term need. We now need to be mindful that the family also has a long-term need that is still as important as ever, so please consider additional generosity throughout this fraternal year (2017-2018). God bless you for all you do for your brother knight families and our Catholic church community.

There are still council members who are delinquent in paying their council dues obligation. If you owe more than one-year dues, you can expect to be contacted by a council officer serving on the council retention committee for the Grand Knight. If you have financial hardship, please contact me or the Grand Knight for assistance and/or remedy. Don't forget to use the convenience of paying dues using a credit card at our council website (<http://www.kofc6793.org>).

We would like to thank Harry Bushar and his team for an excellent job with the Tootsie Roll campaign at the Safeway at Norbeck Road in early August. The team exceeded the collections from last year to a good degree, and the efforts of the group are appreciated. We will be conducting the Tootsie Roll collections at the Olney Liquor store on Georgia Ave each weekend in September starting the weekend of September 9, so please contact Steve Sutkowski at 301-890-9308 to volunteer.

Also, the Grace House party and celebration has been rescheduled to Sunday, September 17. We need assistance starting at 1:00 PM to set-up decorations plus people to provide drinks and desserts and also interact with the residents. Please contact Steve Sutkowski at 301-890-9308 to volunteer.

Let's welcome Paul M. Boccabella who took a First (Formation) Degree as a new Brother Knight during our Council's meeting on Wednesday, August 23, 2017. We should continue to invite friends, church parishioners, family members to become Knights. The requirement is simple. He must be a male, 18 years old and a Catholic.

CULTURE OF LIFE NEWS

Ramon Bueno, Chairman, Culture of Life
E-mail: ramonsk903@yahoo.com ~ Phone: 301-633-1398

Brother Knights, due to circumstances that have kept me from participating in any recent pro-life activity, for this month I would like to simply remind you of the 40 Days for Life campaign I mentioned in our August 2017 newsletter. Rather than refer you to the Culture of Life article from that newsletter, for your convenience I am repeating what I wrote last time.

The campaign will start on Wednesday, September 27 and conclude on Sunday, November 5. 40 Days for Life is the largest internationally coordinated pro-life mobilization in history, helping people in local communities end the injustice of abortion through

- Prayer and fasting,
- Community outreach – spreading the word to our relatives and friends and our communities
- Daily peaceful vigils at abortion clinics.

Since the campaign's inception in 2007, tremendous success has been achieved in the struggle against abortions throughout world. 44 nations now participate in the campaign. The campaign's latest statistics speak to its success – 13,305 lives saved, 86 abortion clinics closed, 154 abortion workers quit, 750,000 volunteers in 715 cities.

The abortion clinics closest to our community are those in Germantown and College Park. The websites where volunteers can sign up for the vigils at these abortion clinics are: <https://40daysforlife.com/local-campaigns/germantown/> and <https://40daysforlife.com/local-campaigns/college-park/>.

Their addresses are available at these websites. I hope you will find the time to participate in the vigils (one-hour time slots) and thereby join the fight against abortion. My own experience is that there is more need for volunteers during early afternoon hours, since most volunteers schedule themselves during mornings and late afternoons, after they come back from work.

HIGHLIGHTS FROM THE 135TH SUPREME CONVENTION

'Convinced of God's Love and Power'

In his annual address delivered at the 135th Supreme Convention in St. Louis, Supreme Knight Carl Anderson announced a new initiative to rebuild a town in Iraq destroyed by ISIS.

The new initiative is part of the Order's continuing efforts to help Christians and other minorities who have suffered genocide in the Middle East.

The supreme knight also cited the major accomplishments of the Knights of Columbus, such as the Order's record levels of charity, with over $177 million in donations and over 75 million hours of volunteer service, growth in membership, and the continued strength of the insurance.

At the opening of his report, the supreme knight officially announced the convention's theme.

"This year marks our 135th anniversary. We celebrate our anniversary in a city named for a great and saintly Catholic king, a city of missionaries, and a gateway city opening up the promise of a new continent. And, like those early missionaries, we come to St. Louis because, in the words of this year's convention theme, 'We are convinced of God's love and power.'"

The supreme knight spoke to an audience of distinguished guests, members of religious communities, and approximately 2,000 Knights and their families from throughout North and Central America, the Caribbean, Africa, Asia and Europe.

"No other Catholic organization offers men what we do," Supreme Knight Anderson said. "We help a man to protect his family with our exclusive, top-rated insurance. We help a man to bolster his faith and strengthen his family through our Domestic Church program. And we offer him the opportunity to live out his faith through charity — as part of a brotherhood of Catholic men. We have done this for 135 years, and today we continue to do this in even greater ways. For 45 years, membership in the Knights of Columbus has grown. We now stand at the all-time high of 1,941,728 members.”

In founding the Knights of Columbus, Father Michael McGivney sought to respond to the difficulties affecting Catholic families in 19th-century America and strengthen his parishioners’ faith and their lives as Catholics, the supreme knight said. Knights continue Father McGivney’s work when they “support families in their vocation to holiness through the Building the Domestic Church While Strengthening Our Parish initiative.”

Along with growth in membership and charity, the Knights of Columbus achieved records in its insurance program.

“Last year, we achieved our 16th consecutive year of growth in insurance sales with a new record: $8.54 billion, in new life insurance. The Knights of Columbus now has more than $105 billion of life insurance in force – a $50 billion increase in the last decade — and a 4.4 percent increase over last year,” the supreme knight said. “These impressive sales numbers — and the overall success of our insurance program, is due in large measure to the commitment of our more than 1,500 agents. Our agents are all brother Knights who are dedicated to the principles of the Order — and to serving our families.”

The Knights of Columbus Investment Department also saw a successful year, especially in the Knights of Columbus Asset Advisors, which in its nearly two years of operation has 137 clients, including 14 dioceses. “In this way, we can help other Catholic organizations put their money to work in ways consistent with Catholic principles.”

He added that for the fourth year the Knights of Columbus was named a World’s Most Ethical Company® by the Ethisphere Institute.

One of the Knights of Columbus’ greatest endeavors during the past fraternal year was the assistance it brought to Christians facing persecution, especially those facing genocide in the Middle East.

“Christians who endure suffering and death for their faith in places like Iraq, Syria and Egypt, show us how to confront terrible evil with the weapons of love and truth. They are a brilliant witness to God’s love and power,” Supreme Knight Anderson said. “Our support for these persecuted Christians has taken two forms. First, since 2014, we have provided more than $13 million for Christian refugees. Second, we advocate on their behalf in the hope that someday they may live their faith in peace — and live in their own communities not as second-class citizens, but as free and equal citizens.”

The supreme knight announced two new initiatives to assist Christians at Risk.

On November 26, the Knights of Columbus and the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops will sponsor a day of prayer for persecuted Christians followed by a Week of Awareness and Education.

“I am pleased to announce that the Knights of Columbus is taking a concrete step to save Christianity in Iraq,” Supreme Knight Anderson said regarding the second new initiative. “The board of directors has authorized a new effort to raise $2 million to save a Christian town on the Nineveh Plain. The town the Knights of Columbus is saving is Karamdes. It is a town in Iraq that until recently was controlled by ISIS.

The terrorists desecrated churches and graves and looted and destroyed homes. Now we will ensure that hundreds of Christian families driven from their homes will return. We will give them and many others hope for the future. For $2,000, a council, a parish or an individual can move a family back home.”

For more information on, or to contribute to, this initiative, please visit www.christiansatrisk.org.

“This year let us be in even greater ways who we are called to be as brother Knights,” he told the gathered Knights. “Let us strive to be that radiant and attractive witness of fraternal communion that our Church and our world so desperately need. Let us strive to be authentic witnesses of how to care for one another, and how to encourage and accompany one another. We can and we will do these things as the spiritual sons of Father McGivney. We can and we will do these things because we are convinced of God’s love and power.”

THE PRO-LIFE FUTURE IS BRIGHT

(Reflections by Lawrence P. Grayson)

Sixty million abortions and counting! The number is staggering. Since Roe v. Wade legalized the willful termination of pregnancy, one of every four children conceived in the United States has been killed in the womb.

And what has been the response to combatting this barbarity? Encouraging, but not yet satisfactory! The majority of adults in this nation still believe, as they did in the late 1970s, that most abortions should be legal, at least under certain circumstances. While seemingly little has changed in 44 years of pro-life effort, the breadth of the statement masks a notable shift in opinion by age group. In the 1970s, the 77 million Baby Boomers, born in the period 1946-1964, had come of age and were changing the nation’s social values. Many of them became the revolutionaries of the 1960s and ‘70s, and the Yuppies of the 1970s and ‘80s. Self-centered and self-righteous, they engaged in free love, pursued radical feminism, considered marriage an option and made divorce socially acceptable.

Children would not disrupt their life styles. Abortion was the answer.

In the succeeding years, their views on human life did not change significantly. They aged, however, so that as today's seniors they are much more supportive of abortion than the seniors of the 1970s.

Others raised in these years resisted the surrounding cultural pressures. They, and some of the "latch-key kids" they bore, became omnipresent parents who pushed their children to succeed, especially academically. Their children, born in the period 1981-2000, constitute the Millennial Generation. They are optimistic, focused, have strong views, and are much more pro-life than their earlier counterparts. In the early 1990s, only 14 percent of the 18-29 age group held that abortion should be illegal in all circumstances; 15 years later, 23 percent believed it should be illegal.

The latest cohort of children, born after 2000, appears to be equally committed to pro-life. Teenage pregnancy, birth and abortion rates are now at 40-year lows. Referred to as the iGeneration, they have been wedded to computers, cell phones and video games since their earliest years. For many, their first picture was taken via ultrasound in the womb, presenting them with the undeniable humanity of the unborn. They are flooded with digitally-delivered information and network and communicate almost constantly in "tweets" through social media. They know what they want and how to get it.

The Millennials have already shown that they are a Pro-Life Generation. From among their ranks are many of today's pro-life activists, disturbing the consciences of their elders, bringing the atrocities of abortion into public view, and expanding their numbers through outreach efforts in schools, colleges and universities. Those who identify as pro-life are intense in their commitment. A NARAL survey in 2010 found that 51 percent of young people who identified as pro-life held that abortion was a very important voting issue. In contrast, among those who identified as pro-choice, the percentage plummeted to 26 percent.

What might this intensity gap among the young mean for society? Consider what a few passionate Millennials have and are doing.

Kristan Hawkins, as a sophomore in high school, volunteered at a pregnancy care center, then started a pro-life club at her school and did the same in college. In 2006, a year after graduating college, she was chosen to head Students for Life in America. In the past ten years, she has helped create 1,100 college and high school chapters, began Med Students for Life, Law Students for Life, and Pregnant on Campus.

Shawn Carney was a college freshman in 2001 when he was asked by a co-ed to pray with her in front of a Planned Parenthood clinic. He did, and three years later the two of them joined with David Bereit to found 40 Days for Life. In the last decade, the organization has conducted almost 5,000 campaigns in 44 countries, drawn 750,000 participants and saved 13,305 babies.

Lila Rose, in 2004 at the age of 15, founded Live Action, an organization devoted to educating the public about the savagery of abortion. She began by conducting undercover work to expose the operations of the worst abortion facilities. Now, she has built the largest social media following in the pro-life movement, with her recent Internet video discussing abortion procedures being viewed by 80 million people.

David Daleiden, at age 18, headed a chapter of Live Action. In 2013, he founded The Center for Medical Progress to do covert investigative journalism on the abortion industry. In the past few years, the Center released a series of videos exposing Planned Parenthood's sale of body parts from aborted children. This has resulted in several Congressional investigations and a growing number of states eliminating funding for the abortion organization.
