Experts discover 'Christopher Columbus' anchor at Caribbean shipwreck site

By James Rogers, Fox News with contributions from Lindsay Carlton

Experts have used a "space treasure map" to make a remarkable discovery in the Caribbean – a centuries-old anchor believed to be from one of Christopher Columbus' ships.

Analysis of the anchor, which was found off the Turks and Caicos islands, reveals that it dates to between 1492 and 1550. The overall size of the anchor and its estimated weight of between 1,200 and 1,500 pounds indicates that it was a "bower" anchor from a 300-ton vessel, the typical size of a Columbus-era ship.

The discovery will be revealed in the next episode of the Discovery Channel docuseries "Cooper's Treasure," which airs at 10 p.m. ET Tuesday. "That anchor is from Christopher Columbus," says historical shipwreck discovery specialist Darrell Miklos, who led the Caribbean expedition, in a clip from Tuesday's show. "I am telling you, stick around, this is just the beginning of an amazing story."

NASA ASTRONAUT'S SPACE TREASURE MAP SPARKS HUNT FOR CARIBBEAN WRECKS

Miklos used a space treasure map created by his late friend, NASA Astronaut Gordon Cooper, to find a series of Caribbean shipwreck sites. Cooper, who died from Parkinson's disease in 2004, created the map following his Mercury 9 Faith 7 flight. At the time, he was possibly on a mission to identify Cold War nuclear threats.

Armed with Cooper's detailed map and archival research, Miklos and a crew of experts identified five "colonial period" wreck sites. The team used a magnetometer to identify shipwreck areas and then dived down for a closer inspection using a metal detector.

The Turks and Caicos discovery is believed to be linked to Vicente Yanez Pinzon -- a Spanish sailor, who, along with his brother Martin Alonso Pinzon, was part of the Columbus expeditions.

The anchor discovered off the Turks and Caicos Islands ("Cooper's Treasure"/Discovery Communications)

Martin and Vicente were captains, respectively, of the Pinta and Nina on Columbus' first voyage in 1492. Six years later, around the time of Columbus' third voyage, Vicente Pinzon set off from Spain with four Caravels, or small sailing ships, including the Pinta, in what is known as one of the expedition's "Minor Voyages."

Virtue of the Month August = Diligence

He did all things well. —Mark 7:37

St. Aloysius Gonzaga

set down in writing a resolution that he would do all in his power that everyone of his actions might be good, and bring him nearer to God.

St. Bonaventure

used to excite himself and others to constant occupation in good works by often repeating this beautiful sentiment: Every hour that we waste in sloth, we lose a glory equal to the good works we might have performed in it.

St. Francis

remained content in the midst of sufferings and said: "So great is the good which I expect, that every pain is a delight to me."

"DO NOT RUN FASTER OR LABOR MORE THAN YOU HAVE STRENGTH AND MEANS PROVIDED TO ENABLE YOU...BUT
Be diligent UNTO THE END."

ART BEAT!!

This year, Art Beat will be moved from its normal location along Michigan Avenue in South Bend due to the street being shut down for paving work.

The city has decided to locate Art Beat along the corridor bordered by Hill, Niles, Jefferson and East Washington. This is a GIANT opportunity for us.

The parking lot we own will be a main stage. The 553 building will be used as a performing stage. We will have food in the back of the hall as the bands perform in the building. We will also serve food outside in two places and we will have two bars – one in our parking lot and one in the Hall.

We will serve pierogis, hot dogs and brats with a parking lot bar and with the bar in the building. This will all be run by KofC 553, with all proceeds from the event going to our general fund.

We predict we will need 30 workers throughout the day, so please mark your calendar for August 17th from 8:00 am to 11:00 pm to join a working shift. Email the time(s) you can work to timothycmcb@gmail.com.

Oh, by the way, you will also have fun seeing the creative art and listening to local talent!

give this your sincere consideration. Your efforts will find true reward!

Roundtable Coordinators Needed

If you can continue on as our coordinator, Great! Just let me know. If there is a new coordinator that we should contact or that has agreed to take the position, again, let me know. Calling All Cubs Fans!

We have a block of tickets reserved for the South Bend Cubs game on Sunday, August 11th at 2pm. The tickets are $12.

We plan to set something up with St. Patrick's Church to meet there an hour before the game for a quick meal (hot dogs, brats, etc.), but we need to know how many of you are interested in participating. There will be a small fee for the food. After we eat, we will walk to the stadium for the game. So, you'll save the cost of parking at the stadium, not to mention what it costs to buy a hot dog there! We will likely be calling on a few of you to help prepare the food. Contact me if interested: timothycmcb@gmail.com.

Kamm Fest Update

The KofC tent at Kamm Fest on the 17th was, to say the least, hot and sticky!! We pulled in about half of what we expected – just under $1,000. However, considering that, because of the extreme heat only half the expected number of people attended, we feel the day was a success. Our tent was well attended by those who braved the heat and folks really enjoyed our food. Huge THANKS! to all of you who helped. You persevered in a difficult situation!

Prayer For Reverence For Life

Almighty God, giver of all that is good,
We thank You for the precious gift of human life:

For life in the womb ... coming from Your creative power ...

For the life of children ... making us glad with their freshness and promise,

For the life of young people ... hoping for a better world ...

For the life of people who are disabled ...
teaching us that every life has value,

For the life of the elderly ...
witnessing to the ageless values of patience and wisdom.

Like Blessed Mary, may we always say, ... "YES" to Your gift.
May we defend it and promote it from conception to its natural end.
And bring us at last, O Father, to the fullness of eternal life in Jesus Christ, our Lord.

Amen.

MOVIE REVIEW: The Good Catholic

In THE GOOD CATHOLIC, idealistic young priest Daniel (Zachary Spicer) falls for a troubled visitor to his confessional. Jane (Wrenn Schmidt) is a charming, quick-witted nonconformist musician who claims to be dying. Her repeated appearances in Daniel's booth quickly progress past a religious rite into a blossoming friendship that's clearly headed for more. When Daniel can't contain his growing feelings, he seeks help from his fellow clergymen: stern Victor (Danny Glover) and eccentric Ollie (John C. McGinley).

While many online comments are positive, reviewer Michael Ordoná, Common Sense Media, says the film doesn't bring the goods, either philosophically or theologically. It's structured around homilies by each of the clergymen, but their messages are muddled. The central question of why a priest as dedicated as Daniel should either be denied happiness in love or be defrocked, is never addressed. Rather, it's taken as a given, so the film instead tries to convey a largely internal struggle without windows into Daniel's thinking.

Parental Caution: This film contains some foul language.
