Brothers,

Date Night Ideas!

Believe It or Not, dating your spouse is very good for your marriage. We all know we should do it, but it with our dynamic schedules filled with work, kids, and other family issues, it is easy to forget about it. Well, it's time to save Date Night! Do something fun together, just the two of you. You can thank me later.

The good news is that spending time together as Date Night doesn't have to require dinner reservations and increasing that monthly credit card balance. Here are some creative, low-cost with maximum benefit ideas for Date Night that won't blow the family budget.

Dollar Night – most all restaurants now have a dollar menu, only order from the dollar; maybe dinner at 1 location with dessert at another.

Spice it up by making a list of 20 questions and playing this game while enjoying dinner or dessert. (yes, you can find lists of 20 questions on the internet for you use if you are not that creative).

Driveway Theater – Use your Laptop or iPad to watch a movie while sitting in your car in your own driveway, just set it on your dash board and it's like being at a drive-in movie all over again – don't forget the microwave popcorn and candy.

Take a Hike – Murfreesboro has some great greenways and parks with hiking trails. Take time to hold hands and enjoy the scenery. Maybe take a camera with you.

Coffee House Conversations – go to a coffee house (maybe Starbucks or other) and just sit and talk to each other; spice things up with both of you agreeing to talk only in a foreign accent. Oh, and an Alabama accent doesn't count.

Volunteer – plan ahead and make arrangements to volunteer at the animal shelter, the Rutherford County Community Care, or maybe the Veterans Hospital. There are many other options that need volunteers.

Garage Sale Saturday – Take a Saturday morning and visit a few garage sales around town together. Don't have to buy anything – but have fun negotiating – remember don't pay asking price – it's a garage sale.

Picture Night – most all of you have a phone that takes pictures (if not, use a camera), but spend a few days in advance taking pictures (both of you), and maybe at that coffee house or at your own house, sit at the table and share these pictures, discussing why you took that picture, maybe who or what the picture reminded you of.

Test Drive a Car – I know you don't need a new car, but that is the best time to test drive one, if you feel sporty, or luxury, or environmentally friendly, try them all. If that works out well, maybe spice it up by going house hunting – no not actually buying one, but touring and seeing what other houses look like. Lots of fun.

Bucket List – sit down with paper and a Sharpie (hey, you didn't think I write all this out and not mention Sharpie did you?), and make out a Bucket List of things you would like to do before you are 50, before you retire, after you retire, or before you kick the bucket. Have fun with it.

Make your own Pizza – lots of things that can be done with toppings, only using toppings that start with specific letter of the alphabet, or only topping purchased with a coupon, or only toppings from a certain region of the world, the point is...make the pizza together, then share a conversation afterwards. Just the 2 of you!
