Grand Knight Message

I'm pretty sure that every Grand Knight is amazed (even one on his second go-around) at how quickly the Fraternal Year passes by the time May arrives. It seems like just last month I was putting together a list of lofty goals for the Council to achieve during my tenure. Now I'm looking at how to best turn over a quality program to the next Grand Knight. At this point we have done a great deal, but there is still more to do. May and June are critical months in our Fraternal Year as they set the direction for the Council by electing new officers in May and approving our budget in June. These events can't happen in a vacuum; Brother Knights on the Nominating Committee and Budget Committee are working now to make sure we are successful. As Brother Knights and members of the Council, please get involved in these processes by attending our regular business meetings and voting on the measures that are forwarded. Plato wrote, "The price good men pay for indifference to public affairs is to be ruled by evil men." Only by staying engaged can we ensure that the Council makes the best choices going forward.

Vivat Jesu, John Edwards, Grand Knight

Knight of the Month

Our May 2018 Knight of the Month is another "behind the scenes" member of our Council. He has been a member of the Order for 29 years. He is a member of Saint Jerome Catholic Church where he volunteers as a Collection Counter. He started helping with Bingo when his children attended OLMC School. When we needed help, he started to stand in as an Assistant Bingo Manager on Thursday nights, and has since grown to be a regular Assistant on Monday nights. Please take an opportunity to say thank you and congratulations to our May Knight of the Month, George "Fred" Hake.

Family of the Month

The May 2018 Family of the Month is Brother Jason Weischedel and his wife Sarah. They have two wonderful children: Aiden and Mary. They attend Our Lady Queen of Peace at Langley AFB where Sarah is the President of their Catholic Women of the Chapel group (CWOC). They both volunteer their time and talents at Our Lady of Mount Carmel School, most notably with the prayer gardens cropping up throughout the campus. Additionally, they both participate in Cub Scouts at OLMC as adult leaders and committee members. You will frequently find the whole family at the Council Home for various events. I would like to extend my congratulations to Jason and his wife Sarah as our May Family of the Month.

Deputy Grand Knight

Brothers, in April we hosted a very nice Public Safety Dinner, Mother/Son-Father/Daughter Dance and a blood drive. Thanks to all who assisted at these events. The Budget committee for the 2018-2019 fraternal year has been meeting and will present the budget on the first meeting in May. The council will vote on the proposed budget during our second meeting in May. Putting the budget together is not an easy task; thank you to the members of the budget committee. Let's not forget some very important people during May, Mothers and Wives, be sure to take care of these special women in our lives. Also, Memorial Day is at the end of May; remember the ultimate sacrifice many have made for us throughout the history of this great country.

Vivat Jesu, David Kerstetter, Deputy Grand Knight

From the Desk of SK Deacon Dan....

The month of May is devoted to Our Blessed Mother. It is interesting that we remember her during the season of Easter. Mary was the portal through which the Word was made flesh to dwell among us, fully human and fully divine. The humanity of Jesus Christ proceeds from his birth from the Virgin Mary. This act completed the reality of God's mission to bring salvation through Jesus' birth, passion, death, and resurrection. Truly central to the plan of salvation was the heart and soul of a teenage girl who stripped away herself. Mary in essence grafted her heart to the creator of life and mercy. She is indeed the mother of God.

Various names are used to describe Mary's role as mother of Jesus. She is called "Mother of God" which translates the more accurately stated Greek term: "Theotokos" or "Birthgiver of God." The Council of Ephesus (431) attributed to Mary the title, Mother of God. This needs to be read against the Council's declaration that in Christ there are two natures, one divine and one human, but only one person. This decision was further explained by the Council of Chalcedon (451), which says with regard to Mary's divine motherhood:

"...begotten from the Father before the ages as regards his godhead, and in the last days, the same, because of us and because of our salvation begotten from the Virgin Mary, the Theotokos, as regards his manhood; one and the same Christ, Son, Lord, only-begotten..."

The intrinsic message of the Mother of God lies in the depth of her soul. "Be it done unto me according to your will." These words depict Mary's servant hood and her intimate love for God. In the silence of her heart she experienced the unspoken voice of the origin of life and love. We are definitely challenged by the "yes" of this young woman's faith. I am reading a book by Cardinal Sarah, "The Power of Silence," which points to the importance of silence as part of our daily prayer. In a world wrought with extrinsic noise both visual and auditory, we are challenged to find a time and place to turn inward. Saint Therese of Calcutta spent three hours everyday kneeling in front of the Blessed Sacrament. Her hope was not to ask, but to offer herself and listen for the unspoken voice of God.

Mary is also the spiritual mother for each of us. Children often reflect the traits of their parents. The example has been set, and by the grace of the sacraments we place ourselves in the presence of God through Christ Our Lord and Savior. In these moments we can be resurrected to transcend the imperfections that stand between God and us. "Blessed are you among women and blessed is the fruit of your womb Jesus." The Mother of Jesus stood by his side in the most painful times, and now stands with each of us. The Word made flesh that through Holy Communion dwells in our hearts and souls.

An Ethical Responsibility

This past March, the Knights of Columbus was named one of the World’s Most Ethical Companies by the Ethisphere Institute for the fifth year in a row. This is a tremendous honor and achievement that all Knights should be proud of. You are part of a fraternal benefit society that puts integrity above everything. But tremendous though it is, being one of the world’s most ethical companies is not just an achievement; it’s our legacy and our responsibility. We won’t settle for less. We owe it to our founder, to our Church, and to our members.

As a business, the Knights of Columbus holds a unique place in the world. For starters, we were founded by a Venerable Servant of God, who, we pray, is on the path to Sainthood. How many companies can say that? It is our responsibility to continue the business in a way that Father McGivney intended. He founded this organization so that a caring community of Catholic families could come together and protect widows and orphans from financial devastation upon the death of the bread winner. Our mission remains the same 133 years later.

From our founding to the present day, we are and have been an unapologetically Catholic company. For us, this means that we must conduct our business in accordance with Catholic principles. We have established a strict screening process for our investments, and we refuse to invest in companies that deal in abortions, contraception, human cloning, embryonic stem cell research, for-profit health care that pays for any of the aforementioned, and pornography.

We are an organization by brother Knights, for brother Knights. We don’t worry about stock price, shareholders, or corporate takeovers. We worry about doing what’s right for our members and their families. After all, we’re brother Knights too.

As agents, we are rigorously trained to adhere to the highest ethical standards. Each of us must sign a Code of Ethics, which is modeled after the Ten Commandments. Among its commandments is “Thou shall present, honestly and accurately, all the facts necessary to enable a member to make an informed decision.” “Our fraternal ties to our members,” it goes on to say, “make it more incumbent on us, in our dealings with them, to assure that their interests are uppermost in our minds as we provide solutions to their financial needs. It all boils down simply to the golden rule – Do unto others as you would have them do unto you.” After all, we are our brother’s keeper. That’s our commitment to you. And that’s our commitment to conducting our business in line with Church teaching, and in line with the vision of our holy founder. We are honored that the Ethisphere Institute has acknowledged that commitment.

Building the Domestic Church

The modern family recently has been a topic of particular focus for the Church, with the two-year synod on the family and the post-synodal exhortation by Pope Francis, Amoris Laetitia (The Joy of Love). During this time, the Knights of Columbus has been involved in supporting families in their Christian vocation through our new Building the Domestic Church While Strengthening our Parish initiative. This initiative, which includes The Family Fully Alive program, is designed to help families become more centered on their task of serving God, neighbor and parish. Learn more about The Family Fully Alive and find tools to help nurture your domestic church.

Everyday Heroes

Every day there are men in your local community and parish who are making a difference and in some way helping to make things better. KofC Supreme wants to hear about these Everyday Heroes, Knights who make a difference, whose charitable works have an impact on the community, whose leadership inspires others and who help those around them grow in their faith. Tell them about a Knight who participates in an inspiring charitable program (through the council or on his own), who is a model of being a Catholic gentleman, who leads others in deepening their faith, or who does something else that makes him a hero to you. They will review this information and follow up on those stories that would be of interest and an inspiration to other Knights, their families and people around the world. Those selected may be published through our print and online publications, and in other ways. For some examples of Knights we've included in the Everyday Heroes video series, please visit kofceverydayheroes.org. Please use this form to let them know about your local Everyday Heroes.
