A prayer for healing

Dear God, we place our worries in Your hands. We place our sick in Your care and humbly ask that You restore Your Servants to health again. Above all, grant us the grace to acknowledge Your holy will and know that whatsoever You do, You do for the love of us. Amen.

NOTE

If you are unable to attend a meeting and are in need of prayer for yourself or a loved one, just let me or any officer know and we will update the list.

GRAND KNIGHT'S CORNER

Our activity level continues to grow as we participate and remain involved in our planned activities with the Knights. As we persist in preparing for the remainder of this year, and reflect on last year's fundraisers and functions, we should look back with pride on all that has been accomplished. Many of you participate in behind the scenes activities at St Pius and within the community. Your willing involvement in all that you do is essential in making our community just a little more happy and healthy. Sometimes your visit to a sick friend could provide a bright spot in their difficult day.

Being involved is not always easy. Sometimes it consumes a great deal of our time and talent, and sometimes we cannot easily see the results of our efforts. But – as we look back and think about our commitment to Faith, Family and Fraternity the Catholic Church and the Knights continues to become a close community.

Vivat Jesus,

Joe Keaney

PROPOSED BUDGET

The budget for 2003 was presented at our last meeting and will be voted on at our next business meeting February 13. A copy of the proposed budget is attached to this newsletter.

NOTICE OF ELECTI ON

Grand Knight Joe Keaney has proposed to elect an additional Inside Guard. Our council bylaws allow for three Guards, one Outside Guard and Two Inside Guards. The name of Tony Cale was placed in nomination. The floor will be opened for additional nominations at our next meeting, February 13. If you are interested in this position, let Joe Keaney know. Note that you must be a third degree member to be an officer.

FLEA MARKET

Our annual flea market will be held February 22 in the Arizona Room and West parking lot at St. Pius. On Friday, we will be picking up large items and storing them and setting up for the flea market. Flyers and space reservation forms were in the parish bulletin. Time is 7 AM to 1 PM. Cost is $10 per space, $5 per table. Food and drinks will be for sale (free coffee to sellers). To reserve a space or arrange a pick up call Jerry Hennelly 733-0995, Joe Keaney 298-8088 or Len Rother 296-5947.

FREE THROW CONTEST

This year our council Free Throw Contest attracted 14 participants. That's an improvement but we hope to do even better next year. The winners in each bracket will be eligible to compete in the District contest to be held February 16 at 1:00 PM in the Arizona room. Please come to lend a hand. We always need score takers, ball handlers, etc. Or just relax and watch!

TUCSON MARCH FOR LIFE

The annual Tucson March for Life was held January 18 and quite a few of us showed up to stand up and march for life. Media coverage was disappointingly slight this year, probably due to the peace demonstration and march the same day. You can see full coverage at the web site,

Silent No More
Fr Frank Pavone/Priests for Life

Abuse victims often use the phrase "Silent No More" to indicate their response to being victimized. It may be surprising to some in our society, therefore, that as our nation reaches the 30-year mark of the abortion decisions Roe vs. Wade and Doe vs. Bolton, that women from coast to coast are uniting under the banner of "Silent No More" because they have had abortions.

Not illegal ones in "back alleys" -- which is more propaganda than reality -- but legal ones in federally protected "clinics."

These women do not consider themselves freed, empowered, or ennobled because of their abortion. Rather, they testify that they were enslaved, weakened, and wounded. They were, in short, given a false promise, which is the essence of all temptation. They were told that this "procedure" would solve their problems. Instead, it brought more problems than they care to think about, namely, the whole range of physical and psychological wounds often described by the term "post-abortion syndrome."

What are these women doing this year that is different from what they have done over the past 30 years?

In our nation's Capitol and in cities across the country, they will gather publicly at rallies and prayer events and hold signs that say, "I Regret My Abortion." The Washington, DC gathering will, in fact, be at the steps of the Supreme Court, on the very date, January 22, that abortion was legalized 30 years ago.

This campaign is being sponsored by NOEL (the National Organization of Episcopalians for Life), the Justice Foundation, and Priests for Life.

But why do this? If abortion is so painful, some will ask, why make a public display out of one's experience?

The answer is understood only if one knows how shameful and painful the silence of abortion is. The grief that follows abortion is, in the words of Dr. Theresa Burke, a "forbidden grief." The grief is not acknowledged; it is not validated. People don't send sympathy cards or talk about it openly. In fact, those who grieve their child killed by abortion are often made to feel silly for feeling sad. After all, they are told by society that they exercised a choice that solved a problem. Why grieve over that?

Such questions, of course, reveal a complete blindness to the fact that killing one's child hurts, and leaves a wound that Mom does not ever forget.

These women are tired of having pro-choice advocates pretend to speak for them. They want to tell the world, in their own words, that what is too easily celebrated as a "choice" and a "right" is in fact a painful burden.

Not every post-abortive woman has found enough healing to be able to participate in these public rallies or hold these signs. But the participants in Silent No More pray that their presence will assist their sisters on the road to healing, and give them some measure of comfort to know that their grief is no longer forbidden.

Nunca más calladas
P. Frank Pavone, Priests for Life

Las víctimas de abuso usan a menudo la frase "Nunca más callados" ("Silent No More") para indicar su respuesta a los que los han victimado. Por eso, puede sorprender a algunos en nuestra sociedad que a medida que nuestra nación se acerca a los 30 años de las decisiones Roe vs. Wade y Doe vs. Bolton, mujeres de costa a costa se unan bajo el emblema "Nunca más calladas" porque han tenido abortos.

No se trata de los ilegales en "callejones oscuros", que es más propaganda que realidad, sino de los legales en "clínicas" protegidas a nivel federal.

Estas mujeres no se consideran liberadas, habilitadas o ennoblecidas por sus abortos. Más bien, dan testimonio de haber sido esclavizadas, debilitadas y heridas. En definitiva, recibieron una falsa promesa, que es la esencia de toda tentación. Les dijeron que este "procedimiento" resolvería sus problemas. En cambio, les trajo más problemas de los que se quieren imaginar, a saber, todo el rango de heridas físicas y psicológicas que a menudo se describen con el término "síndrome post-aborto."

¿Qué están haciendo estas mujeres este año que sea diferente de lo que han hecho en los últimos 30 años?

En el congreso de nuestra nación y en ciudades en todos el país, se van a reunir públicamente en manifestaciones y jornadas de oración portando carteles que dicen: "Me arrepiento de mi aborto." La reunión de Washington D.C., de hecho, será en la escalinata de la Corte Suprema, el 22 de enero, día mismo en que el aborto fue legalizado hace 30 años.

Esta campaña está organizada por NOEL, National Organization of Episcopalians for Life, la Fundación Justice y Priests for Life.

Pero, ¿por qué hacer esto? Si el aborto es tan doloroso, algunos preguntarán: ¿por qué hacer una demostración pública de esta experiencia?

La respuesta solo se entiende si uno conoce cuan vergonzante y doloroso es el silencio del aborto. El dolor que sigue al aborto es, según palabras de la Dra. Theresa Burke, un "dolor prohibido." No se reconoce el dolor. No se valida. La gente no envía tarjetas de pésame ni habla abiertamente de esto. De hecho, a aquellos que sufren la muerte de un hijo por aborto a menudo se les hace sentir tontos por estar tristes. Después de todo, la sociedad les dice que han ejercido la elección que resolvió el problema. ¿Por qué estar doloridos por eso?

Esas preguntas, por supuesto, revelan una ceguera absoluta al hecho que matar al propio hijo duele, y deja una herida que mamá nunca jamás olvidará.

Estas mujeres están cansadas de que los que abogan por la "elección" pretendan hablar por ellas. Quieren decirle al mundo, en sus propias palabras, que lo que fácilmente se celebra como "elección" y "derecho" es de hecho una pesada carga.

February 2003

No toda mujer ha encontrado suficiente sanación después del aborto para poder participar en estas manifestaciones públicas o mostrar estos carteles. Pero las participantes en "Nunca Más Calladas" ruegan que su presencia asista a sus hermanas en el camino de la sanación, y les traiga algún alivio al saber que su no dolor no está mas prohibido.

PREGNANCY HOTLINES

Any woman who is pregnant and in need can turn for help to the pro-life movement. She never has to feel that abortion is the only option.
