Plan to attend February 1, 2018 and Vote

Brother Knights,

The Supreme Council is requiring every Council that has a Home Association to enter into an agreement to either sell its Council Home or enter into an agreement known as a Terms and Use Agreement. This agreement is a document to separate all liability from the Home Association, the Council, the State Council and Supreme Council. That is what the February 1, 2018 meeting, official announcement below and vote is about.

I will be available to any member to discuss in more detail at the January 4, 2018 council meeting, by contacting me at my office (814-695-2814) or by email at zanglaw@atlanticbbn.net.

The Supreme Council Checklist is available from the Star News Editor or copies will be available at the next meeting.

-- Pope Benedict XVI*

Participate in this Council project (in the meeting minutes) to help feed the hungry!

Brother Knights,

First of all, I want to say thank you to all of our members for your hard work and dedication in 2017. Now that we are in a New Year, I want to look ahead and make this year just as successful!

As always, our main goal is to gain more members to aid in our mission. The more members we gain, the more opportunities we have to help the Church and our community. Also, I want to utilize more of our current members to be more active and participate in a wider variety of events. I don't want people to become burned out doing the same events year. We can also use more fresh ideas.

Let's make 2018 our best year to date.

Fraternally yours, Rich

Chaplains Corner

by Father Anthony L. Legarski
A Balanced Lent

Brother Knights:

There is a lot of talk these days about “balance”. We hear terms like balanced budget, balanced trade, balanced time, balanced meals, etc. Have we ever stopped to think that our spirituality is in need of balance as well? This is particularly true during the Season of Lent, which of course begins this month on Ash Wednesday, February 14. How, you ask, can one balance their observance of Lent?

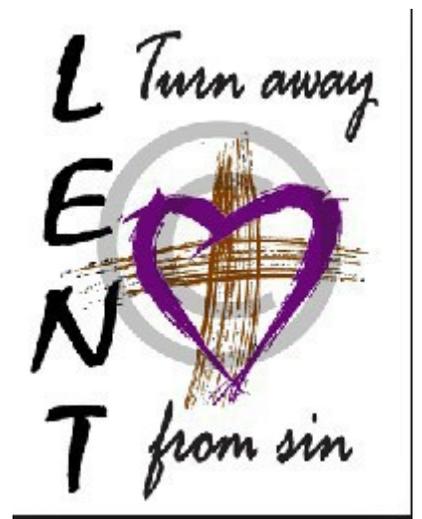

The answer lies in the realization that Lent has both a negative and positive objective. Too often we emphasize the “negative.” Not negative because it is bad, but negative because it is depriving. That is, we focus on a kind of spiritual deficit that we must create by fasting, abstinence, and of course “giving things up.” The “negative” certainly has a rightful place in our Lenten observance. It helps us to focus on Christ more intently, to contemplate with greater attention his passion and death. Giving things up for Lent help us detach ourselves from things of the world. Doing so enables us to divert our desire for a particular food or habit to reaching out for Christ. Moreover, it helps us to focus on our immortality and what is and is not of great importance to the fate of our soul.

A well-observed Lent necessarily includes the more positive aspects as well. It is a time that calls us to be busier with things of the spirit, things of the soul, and things of eternity. Lent is a time when we should commit ourselves to praying more often and more intently. It is the perfect time of the year to allow ourselves to be drawn to various lay ministries within the Church. Candidates coming into the faith do so during this time of the year for that very reason. Setting aside time for spiritual reading and reading the lives of the Saints is another positive exercise that can enrich our Lenten experience. Of course, concerted efforts aimed at charity, forgiveness, and reconciliation are activities that speak for themselves as to their value for us in Lent. They are very much cornerstones of the Lenten structure.

Therefore, as we enter into to another annual “Lenten Retreat”, we should do so with the resolve to be both positive and negative in the goals we set and the things we do in order to prepare ourselves more fully for the joy that awaits us after our journey in the celebration of our Lord’s resurrection from the dead.

May your observance of Lent be a blessed and balanced one. In addition, may you experience the same closeness to our Lord in his passion that was experienced by His mother and ours—Mary, Star of the Sea.

Priest's Vestments Worn at Mass and their Origin

Vestment	Historical Origin	Symbolic Ref.
(h) Amice The amice is a piece of fine linen in the form of an oblong. The priest places it for a moment on his head, and then allows it to rest upon his shoulders. As he does so he prays: “Place, O Lord, on my head the helmet of salvation, that so I may resist the assaults of the devil.”	A covering for the head and neck worn like a hood. When indoors it was lowered and thrown over the shoulders.	(a) The linen cloth that the soldiers put over Our Lord’s head; when thus blindfolded. He was mockingly asked who struck Him. (b) The helmet of Salvation (Cf. Ephes. 6:17)
(i) Alb A wide linen robe reaching to the feet and covering the whole body. The vesting prayer is: “Make me white, O Lord, and cleanse my heart; that being made white in the Blood of the Lamb I may deserve an eternal reward.”	The alb, or tunic, was worn in ancient times by all who enjoyed any dignity.	(a) The garment with which Herod clothed Our Lord. (b) Signifies the purity of conscience demanded of God’s priests.
(j) Cincture The cincture, or girdle, is a cord of linen fastened about the waist to confine the alb. The vesting prayer is: “Gird me, O Lord, with the cincture of purity, and quench in my heart the fire of concupiscence, that the virtue of continence and chastity may abide in me.”	Walking and active exertion made it necessary for one to gird up a long garment like the alb. Hence the cincture was an essential article of dress.	(a) The cord that bound Our Lord to the pillar when He was being scourged. (b) Symbolizes modesty, and also readiness for hard work in God’s service.
(k) Maniple A strip of silken cloth worn on the left arm of the priest. The vesting prayer is: “May I deserve, O Lord, to bear the maniple of weeping and sorrow in order that I may joyfully reap the reward of my labors.”	Originally a strip of linen worn over the arm. During the long services, and in the intense heat of southern countries its use was frequently necessary to wipe the perspiration from the face and brow.	(a) The rope whereby Our Lord was led, and the chains which bound His sacred hands. (b) An emblem of the tears of penance, the fatigue of the priestly office and its joyful reward in heaven.
(l) Stole A long band of silk of the same width as the maniple, but three times its length. It is worn around the neck and crossed on the breast. The vesting prayer is: “Restore to me, O Lord, the state of immortality which I lost through the sin of my first parents and, although unworthy to approach Thy Sacred Mysteries, may I deserve nevertheless eternal joy.”	A kind of neck-piece or kerchief; a part of the dress of the upper classes. It gradually became the distinctive mark of spiritual authority in the higher clerics, viz., the priest and deacon.	(a) The cords with which Jesus was tied. Worn as it is over the shoulders, it reminds us, too, of the cross Our Lord carried. (b) A reminder of the yoke of Christ. The priest’s burden is a heavy one, which Christ nevertheless makes sweet.
(m) Chasuble The chasuble is the outer and chief vestment of the priest. It is essentially the Mass vestment and is now exclusively reserved to the priest. The vestment is familiar to all by reason of the cross usually embroidered on it. The vesting prayer is: “O Lord, who has said, ‘My yoke is sweet and My burden light,’ grant that I may so carry it as to merit Thy grace.”	Imagine a large circular cloth with a hole cut in the center for the head. This will help one to visualize the ancient chasuble, which was an immense cloak, over the head and completely enveloped the body. When it was necessary to use the hands, the garment had to be folded up on each side over the arms. Because of its inconvenience (for two assistants were needed to manipulate it), the vestment was gradually cut and altered until it now has its present shape. It is usually ornamented with a large cross on the back, and sometimes on the front of the garment (fig n.). We occasionally see chasubles made in the Gothic or Medieval style. These are more ample and drape over the shoulders down to the wrists. The cross on such chasubles has the shape of the letter “Y,” the top arms of which extend over the shoulders towards the front.	(a) The purple cloak worn by Our Lord when He stood before Pilate. (b) An emblem of love. When the ordaining bishop gives it to the new priest, he says: “Receive the priestly garment, for the Lord is Powerful to increase in you love and perfection.”
