Grand Knight's Message

Brothers,

As another Columbian Year draws to a close, we should remember our successes and build on them. We should also learn from and improve on the areas where we fell short.

Let us remember and pray for our deceased brothers.

Let us lift up and challenge each other to better prepare ourselves for the future, for the attacks on our church and morals; they are relentless. Prayer and action are the answer. We must maintain our moral compass and remember our guiding principles of Charity, Unity, Fraternity and Patriotism.

Let us find ways to be a more welcoming fraternity of Catholic Men, without lessening the importance of our true Catholicity.

Let us be the defenders of the faith, the defenders of our priests in both public and private settings.

Lets us be the defenders of the Holy Catholic Church.

Let us be known our actions and words.

Let us be true our beliefs.

And let us look to the future with Faith, Hope, and Love.

As I pass the gavel on to the next Grand Knight of Council 10921, I pray that we will continue to be the right hand of the Church and continue to support our Church, our parish, the parishioners, our brother Knights, our Country and our Community to the best of our abilities and use of our time, talent and treasure.

Let us stand PROUD to be called Knights of Columbus!!!

Vivat Jesus!!!

St. Joseph – A Quiet Man with Much to Say

by Archbishop Donald Wuerl

Father's Day, in the United States especially, has become a day to recognize the important place of dad. While the celebration itself may be focused on a Father's Day card, a gift, or a special meal, at its heart is the recognition that a father plays a singularly important role in the life of a family. Children need a father. Fathers have a God-given responsibility to their children.

Recognizing this, Pope John Paul II took action, holding up St. Joseph as a model of modern manhood. On August 15, 1989, he issued an apostolic exhortation on St. Joseph and the Catholic understanding of fatherhood – Redemptoris Custos (Guardian of the Redeemer: On the Person and Mission of St. Joseph in the Life of Christ and the Church).

Just as we call Mary "Mother of the Church" because she is mother of Jesus who is head of the Church, so we look to St. Joseph, who was foster father of Jesus and his protector, as the "Patron of the Universal Church, Protector of the Church."

We can rejoice that St. Joseph through his marriage to Mary was caught up in the mystery of spiritual fatherhood and became a model of marriage, care of one's child, and an exemplar of the Holy Family. St. Joseph is a model to every believer and particularly for men in their role as father.

We are called to be actively engaged in our vocation, our calling from God, in a way that quietly but effectively spreads the faith and extends God's kingdom in everyplace and age.

Field Agent's Message

Graduation. Years of study and hard work finally pay off.

Jobs, possibly more schooling, await. So do school loan repayments, car loans and insurance, and finding and furnishing a place to live. A lot of things to weigh on the mind of our children once the euphoria of graduation wears off. Is there something more you can give your children in addition to your congratulations? What about starting them off on the road to financial security? You are probably thinking they are still too young to worry about all of this. Nothing could be further from the truth. These young adults need the example of a disciplined approach to securing their future. Before you know it, they will be married and raising a family of their own. Many of their old and new debts are probably still being paid off. What if something happens? Is there something you can do right now? Absolutely.

As a member of the Knights of Columbus, you have access to one of the top insurance companies in the country. Our annuities have performed very well in spite of the economic crisis that has gripped our country. Please call me at your earliest opportunity so we can discuss how you can help your children by establishing a strong base for their financial security.

Fraternally,

Dennis Matthews, Field Agent, 610-954-7583
